How to be a successful creative entrepreneur in the 21st century?

Statistics show that 70% of artists are self-employed. Still, many artists are not comfortable with the idea of entrepreneurship.

That's why artists need support and motivation to improve their competences and skills and be successful creative entrepreneurs. The project has developed a motivational guide with statistical facts, creative sector opportunities, video success stories and testimonials to help you start your journey

We can help to find your way to success in the creative business.
